Created during the 50th anniversary of the Summer of Love from a discarded textbook: Aesthetics: An Introduction to the Philosophy of Art by Ann Sheppard.

I was a beading teeny bopper during the Summer of Love, 1967. When the fiftieth anniversary of this cultural phenomenon arrived, I reflected on my life and activities during that time, and created this series. I was thinking about both the changing of culture through time, and the role of books and higher education in my own paths. I decided to try to make beauty out of art theory.
